What is MILAS®?

MILAS® is an industry-specific, complete and standalone enterprise resource planning (ERP) solution that has Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Finance and Operations at its functional core. Equipped to handle the most complex business processes in the nutrition supply chain, MILAS® provides a future-proof solution with native cloud capabilities.

For every business, the streamlining of purchasing, sales, operations and finance processes is essential to growth. Businesses in the nutrition sector are no different – they can only thrive if their ERP system incorporates industry best practices. By combining Adifo's industry expertise with the immense power of Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Finance and Operations, MILAS® streamlines the entire organizational workflow of the nutrition supply chain, including:

- Procurement and risk management

- Sales and purchase logistics

- Advanced sales discounts and charges

- Purchase landed cost calculation

- Production support

- Recipe and label management

And MILAS® does even more to increase efficiency! It also seamlessly integrates with feed formulation and recipe management software (such as BESTMIX® for Feed and BESTMIX® for Food), quality control software (such as BESTMIX® Quality Control), MES, EDI, weighbridges, etc.

How can MILAS® benefit
your business

A comprehensive, future-proof ERP solution for the food industry

MILAS® offers all the standard features of Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Finance and Operations, including sales, purchasing, operations, accounting and inventory management. On top of all that, Adifo has added innovative features specifically designed to streamline the nutritional supply chain. These include modules that allow you to manage food recall and traceability, safety and compliance, quality and production, recipe development, label management, customer and product pricing, transport and distribution, warehouse management, and more.

MILAS® runs on the Microsoft cloud platform, which means you are guaranteed the best possible accessibility, scalability and reliability. With MILAS® your team can easily accesses and interact with the data that drives your business, wherever they are.

Place your trust in MILAS® and take back full control of your business processes.

full control of
your business
processes

01 / Stay compliant, avoid recalls

The food sector is highly regulated, and authorities go to great lengths to enforce industry laws and standards around traceability, labeling, storage, etc. Changes to regulations in areas such as waste disposal, food quality, handling of raw materials and documentation pose a major challenge to food producers. With MILAS® you can easily manage food safety and compliance, quality and production, recipe development, and labeling through the integration of MILAS® with BESTMIX®. Regular updates combined with the built-in best practices guarantee that your business is always 100 percent compliant.

02 / Easily evaluate your suppliers and ingredients

The increasing incidence of food allergies and intolerances has changed the market. Customers are more health-conscious than ever and the demand for less nutritious products has fallen. The desire to remove artificial additives and use only the best-quality ingredients is driving many food producers. In this new environment, it is essential that you can easily and meticulously control your ingredients in terms of their quality, their specifications and their licenses. By integrating MILAS® with BESTMIX®, SpecTrack and Quality Control, you will have instant access to all the relevant information on your raw materials. This is the easiest and most efficient way to analyze the quality of every element that goes into your products. You can also store your supplier product specs and licenses and use this information to optimize your procurement process. MILAS® allows you to track and trace raw materials, check quality, communicate with your vendors and update purchase contracts. From raw material to finished product, MILAS® empowers you to safeguard the quality of your products.

03 / Improve your operations with industry-specific functionality

Consumers are taking a greater interest in what goes into their food, which makes end-to-end traceability and quality attribute management essential for every batch of product you produce. MILAS® contains traceability, quality analysis, result management and built-in preventative functionality that allows you to account for your materials at every stage of the production process, from raw materials to finished product. You can manage important food requirements directly in your ERP, such as bi-directional ingredient and product traceability, recalls, quality assurance and allergen management. Improve your operations based on comprehensive, quality data that's always at your fingertips.

04 / Guarantee customer satisfaction

Improve your customers' experience by automating client services such as discounts, promotions, rebates and contracts, even when the customer contact is purely online. As more consumers shift to online shopping, food manufacturers need an effective e-commerce strategy to take advantage of this growth opportunity. MILAS® allows you to use preset parameters to speed up the order entry process and ensure your customers receive their deliveries on time and at the best possible price. And thanks to its strong sales pricing module, MILAS® allows you to easily and efficiently manage your discount and charge process. With MILAS® you'll be well equipped to achieve your e-commerce goals.

05 / Rely on the power of Microsoft

MILAS® combines Adifo's industry expertise with the immense power of Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Finance and Operations .You can be confident that Adifo's ERP will always provide the most reliable and accurate industry data, while Microsoft is constantly improving the technology and security, so you know your data (and your customers' data) is always safe and secure.
