

Powered by ENERFY

Real time analytics tool

White label app solution

Gamification tool

DIGITIZATION MADE EASY

Greater Than supplies Enerfy, a fully digital auto insurance solution based on Artificial Intelligence. The solution is used by insurance carriers globally to gain real-time information, reduce claims costs and find new and more engaging ways to communicate with their end-consumers.

Enerfy brings new insights to risk with real-time information on bad risks, assessed by its AI consisting of over 650 million unique driving profiles.

The turnkey white-label solution enables customers to completely customize the design, packaging and content of the product to their own graphic manners and needs, as well as offer in-app gamified competitions. With Enerfy, the entire digitization process is ready just a few clicks away. A user-friendly, digital and scalable product is ready for the market.

Enerfy provides the technical foundation for the FIA Smart Driving Challenge – the global competition that rewards everyday motorists in their smart, safe and environmentally friendly driving. The smarter you drive, the better scores you get.