Remote Customer Relationship Management: Managing performance, Viewing indicators and Leading teams

Designed to meet the challenges of real-time management of remote customer relations activities, LOGEPAL is the leading solution favored by customer relations centers and support units.

It provides a 360-degree view of the activity and improves performance and responsiveness.

CHALLENGES

- To have a shared vision in real time of the different activities according to the operational context.
- Relay the general or specific type of communication
- Facilitate and engage teams remotely

IDEAL SOLUTION

- Choose the business and telephony indicators to display and share regardless of the ACD and business solutions (CRM).
- Define the collective, individual and mobile supports according to the population.
- Customizable display projects

DESIRED OUTCOMES

- Improved quality of service, better responsiveness and proactivity
- Better dropout rate and accessibility to service
- Facilitate the commitment and retention of employees and the animation of challenges.

Customer success: [RAJA - Logepal at the service of real-time monitoring and management indicators.]

[“The solution allows us to meet the business challenges by having a real-time view on the turnover generated towards the target but also on the volume of orders. We decrypt the customer situation with reports according to the customer database. These indicators are very precious to us and allow the teams to be more reactive and proactive. The solution is also present in our warehouses in collective display to have relevant information on the status of the order and its preparation as well as on shipments”.]

[ADDRESSING BUSINESS ISSUES]

By having a real-time view of the revenue generated in relation to the target but also on the volume of orders

[BEST PROACTIVITY AND REACTIVITY]

Decryption of the customer database with reports according to the customer database. Advisors can therefore anticipate and act accordingly.

[DYNAMIC WORK]

The contextual information visualized allows RAJA to combine performance and employee engagement, satisfaction and customer knowledge.
