

Are you ready for CMMC?

The U.S. is under constant attack from a wide variety of malicious actors. For our government contracting community, this threatens not just our economic health, but our national security. If you do business with the Department of Defense (DoD) it's time to prepare for the Cybersecurity Maturity Model Certification (CMMC) framework.

CMMC is designed to secure our nation's Defense Industrial Base (DIB) through a series of controls, processes, and certifications. CMMC transitions the DIB from the current, self-attestation model for cyber compliance to a third-party audit-based accreditation. This new requirement builds on DFARS 7012 and NIST 800-171. Every company that does business with the DoD, either directly or indirectly, will need to comply with CMMC.

Meeting the challenge

C3 Integrated Solutions has developed a methodical approach to securing your environment and positioning it for CMMC compliance. Building upon the Microsoft 365 and Azure, as well as select complementary services, C3 delivers the technologies necessary to satisfy the practices required by CMMC. We provide a practical strategy that allows you to implement services incrementally, at your pace, while maintaining capability and security each step of the way.
