C/3 Text Plus

Create professional documents facilitating continuous text and optimize your sales processes.

This extension is only available in German.

There is just not enough space in your documents for not item related information? Customer specific agreements get lost because they cannot be included in sales quotes? Sales promotions for items are not offered consistently to every customer?

A professional, customer centric document contains more than a list of items – additional information can be as valuable as gold: Notes about further services, obligatory legal instructions or compilations of useful details for further processing. C/3 Text Plus provides the possibility to insert introduction and closing texts in all types of documents, from your sales quotes to invoices.

Customer care requires especially one thing: Having fast access to all relevant information. C/3 Text Plus introduces special information areas with continuous text for specifics and individual agreements to vendor, customer and item master data. All sales information is clearly arranged in the side menu while creating your sales quote; never ever lose relevant information in the process again!

Your benefits at a glance:

- True continuous text: Enough space and automated pagination
- Introduction and closing texts in all documents, from sales quote to invoice
- Additional information in Vendor, Customer and Item master data
- Multilingual boilerplates for all text fields
- Extended standard report templates which process the continuous texts are already included

In case you need further assistance to adjust our standard report templates to your corporate design, please contact us.
