

Building better business solutions with PowerApps

PowerApps911 is a boutique consulting firm focused on the Microsoft Power Platform. Our consulting team has extensive experience in the Microsoft stack. Each of our consultants is dedicated to Microsoft-only engagements. We have implemented PowerApps, Flow, and related technologies across many different organizations. Through each engagement, we are increasing our real-world experience and expertise. We have assisted over 150 companies with their PowerApps and Flow projects. While each consultant is a general PowerApps and Flow expert, we have consultants that have specializations across the platform. This is an important benefit for our customers, as this allows us to effectively cover the entire platform and provide you the expertise you deserve. As different scenarios and topics are uncovered, the appropriate team members will be engaged to ensure that each area of the project is reviewed by an expert in the respective specialty.

Consulting

At PowerApps911, we provide you with a wide range of options to engage our services. Each option is designed to help you build your apps in the most efficient manner possible.

- Ad Hoc Support: This is a no contract offering for clients that need immediate support.
- Projects: If you have a more structured project need, we can work with you to come up with a scoped plan and timeline that will be put into a formal proposal. This Statement of Work will also include estimates for time and cost.
- Pre-Paid Consulting: With prepaid consulting, you purchase a block of 10 hours at a discounted rate. This is most popular with customers who either want us to build the app for them or who want to work together to build an app (mentoring). All hours must be purchased before the service is started.

PowerApps and Flow for App Builders Training

Have you built your first app or workflow and are now excited about what is next? Do you feel like you know just enough to be dangerous and would like to start to learn the core concepts for building repeatable and manageable business applications? Then this is the course for you.

This class is focused on helping you take your fragmented PowerApps and Flow skills and transforming them into solid skills. You know your business processes inside and out, let us help you do the same with PowerApps and Flow.
