"This is a dream come true project for us thanks to the MillenniumIT ESP Team. It's a great feeling and provides us satisfaction to be working with this team who really understood our needs to develop this platform to support families with children who have special needs. This has been a dream for thousands of families who don't have access to therapy services in their areas. Ability to reach out to therapy services and connect with a fully trained multidisciplinary team from the comfort of their homes during the lockdown is a blessing for these families. In this stressful situation and with changed priorities, this is the best solution to support these children and their families to meet their special needs. When many countries and organizations are struggling to find a way to support these families during the pandemic, with the hard work of the MillenniumIT ESP Team, in a short period of time, we were able to develop this online platform to bridge the gap between the services and the children with disabilities. We are very excited and keenly looking into the possibilities of expanding this wonderful initiative to support families in the other parts of the world."
