Overview

Companies in Indonesia have many variations from the business fields to the company size, where usually the companies have the same necessity to achieve company goals to improve the productivity level. Likewise with Large Companies that generally have a more specific system.

Small to Medium-sized companies such as home-industry and small medium enterprise also need a system to control the business process and improve their productivity. Using Business Central is the right choice because it is more appropriate and affordable.

Business Central can simplify the business process, such as buying and selling processes, manufacturing process, inventory control, financial management until accessing financial reports according to company needs.

Empowering Business Process

Business Central can reduce the effort made by business owner in carrying out business transaction processes.

Business Central is a cloud-based system and can easily be integrated with other Microsoft products, such as Office 365 and Power Platform. With an integrated end to end process makes it easier for business owner to get a real time data and boost their business.
