

CONTENT GATE

Find all your relevant content within a split second, regardless of storage location

Due to decentralized storage, the time needed to find all relevant information is a time-consuming process. Besides, traditional storage systems mostly do not integrate with CRM or ERP. We proudly announce that AXtension® Content Gate is extended to Microsoft Dynamics 365 for Customer Engagement. AXtension® Content Gate is the first content management solution for Microsoft Dynamics 365 that enables you to link both CRM and ERP.

In a typical organization, business critical content is stored in multiple locations including file-shares, email boxes, decentralized SharePoint environments or even separate DMS systems. This leads to information gaps since there is no centralized solution. Due to the decentralized storage, to find all relevant information is a time-consuming process. Your employees have to search several systems in multiple locations and check with other departments for documents. Furthermore, traditional storage systems do not integrate with CRM or ERP and for the few that do, integration is only available for one of the two systems. This requires that identical documents being stored in at least two separate locations, making it challenging to keep all documents up-to-date. In the end, these issues create an undesired situation, which could lead to costly mistakes when making business decisions.

What is AXtension® Content Gate?

AXtension® Content Gate offers the following advantages:

- One overview for all relevant content. This reduces the time needed for retrieving relevant content related to your business processes.
- Share content across multiple system-of-records within the Microsoft Dynamics 365 platform. This eliminates the requirement for sharing content across multiple applications and reduces the rate of error that can occur when transferring content manually.
- One single-point-of-truth for storing and retrieving content. This helps avoid costly mistakes by ensuring all users are working with the latest version of the document and the need for duplicate storage of documents
- Uniform access control on documents, ensuring that only users who are authorized to see a document have access.

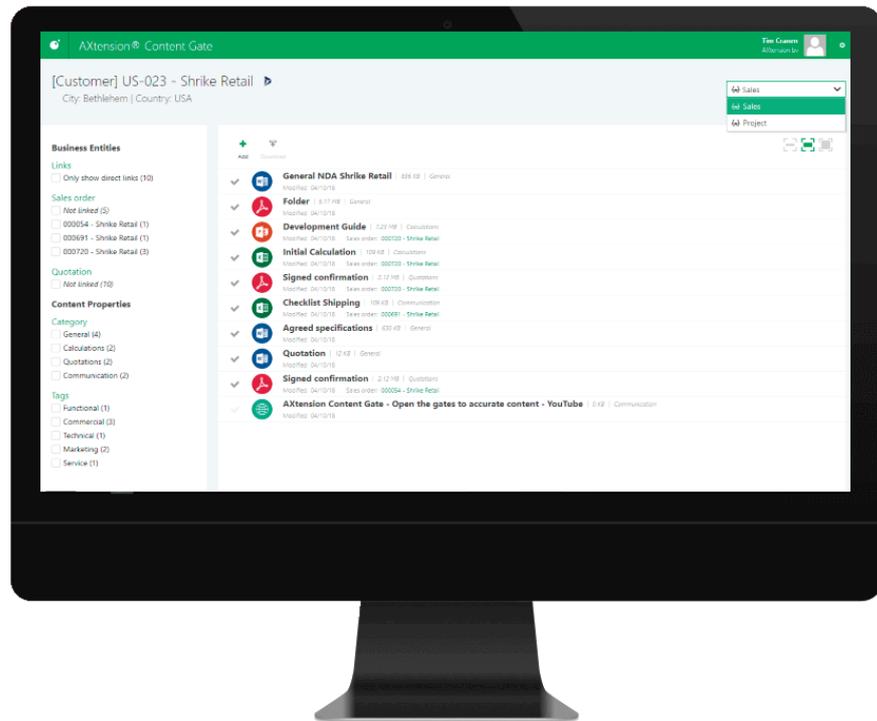

AXtension® Content Gate:

- AXtension® Content Gate is a cloud-based solution that uses the information from your Microsoft Dynamics 365 to link content that is stored in your personal cloud storage solution.
- Integration with Microsoft Dynamics 365 by replacing the standard document handling button with a link to AXtension® Content gate.
- Content storage in Microsoft Azure Blob Storage and SharePoint Online.
- Attached files can be viewed from different angles in Microsoft Dynamics 365 by using the relations that are already available in Microsoft Dynamics 365. For example: content related to a sales order is also available at customer level.
- A preview function is provided, supporting various file formats.

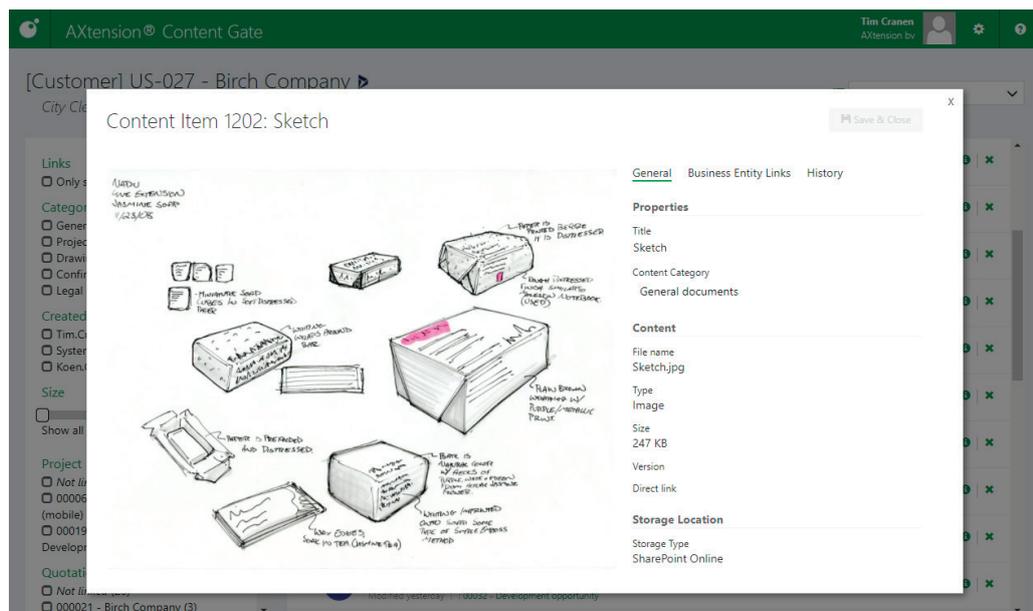

“By storing all content in a single place that is accessible from various angles, you create a single point-of-truth for content in your organization.”
