Customer review: OnPro expedites our government-related employment tasks

Monday, August 16, 2021 by Marketplace Rewards Team

OnPro, an app published to Microsoft AppSource, is a human resources platform with a strong government relations component. OnPro is connected to United Arab Emirates government entities so it can sync employee records, show government e-service applications, and track employee e-visa status.

Microsoft interviewed HR manager Allison Hamilton at Abu Dhabi University to learn what she had to say about the product.

What do you like best about OnPro?

The system is very user-friendly and reduces the time it takes to process government relation transactions. It's accessible to all employees and can be integrated as a self-service tool.

How has the product helped your organization?

It has streamlined resources and helped us interact with our clients in a timely manner. Previously, the challenge was manually entering information into Excel files and conducting regular checks. Now all info is pulled from government systems, the scope for error is minimized, and the system is less prone to human error. It's almost 100 percent accurate and handles employee visa renewals, company license renewals, and any government-related relations tasks.

How are customer service and support?

Exceptional. OnPro has always responded in a timely manner, responded adequately to all issues, and resolved challenges that usually took months in a very short time.

Any recommendations to other users considering this product?

I highly recommend this product. It will change your daily life and government relations operations.

What is your overall rating for this product?

5 out of 5 stars.
