Companies realize the importance and need of digital transformation within their organization.

In order to successfully implement modern workplaces, companies need to be aware of the objectives pursued. This workshop helps companies to identify the status quo and to develop a roadmap for transformation.

CHALLENGES

Digital change is not a trend anymore and it seems that German companies have realized it, finally. For successful transformation, companies need to know their own digital transformation agenda – but also need to do a lot of homework for it.

IDEAL SOLUTION

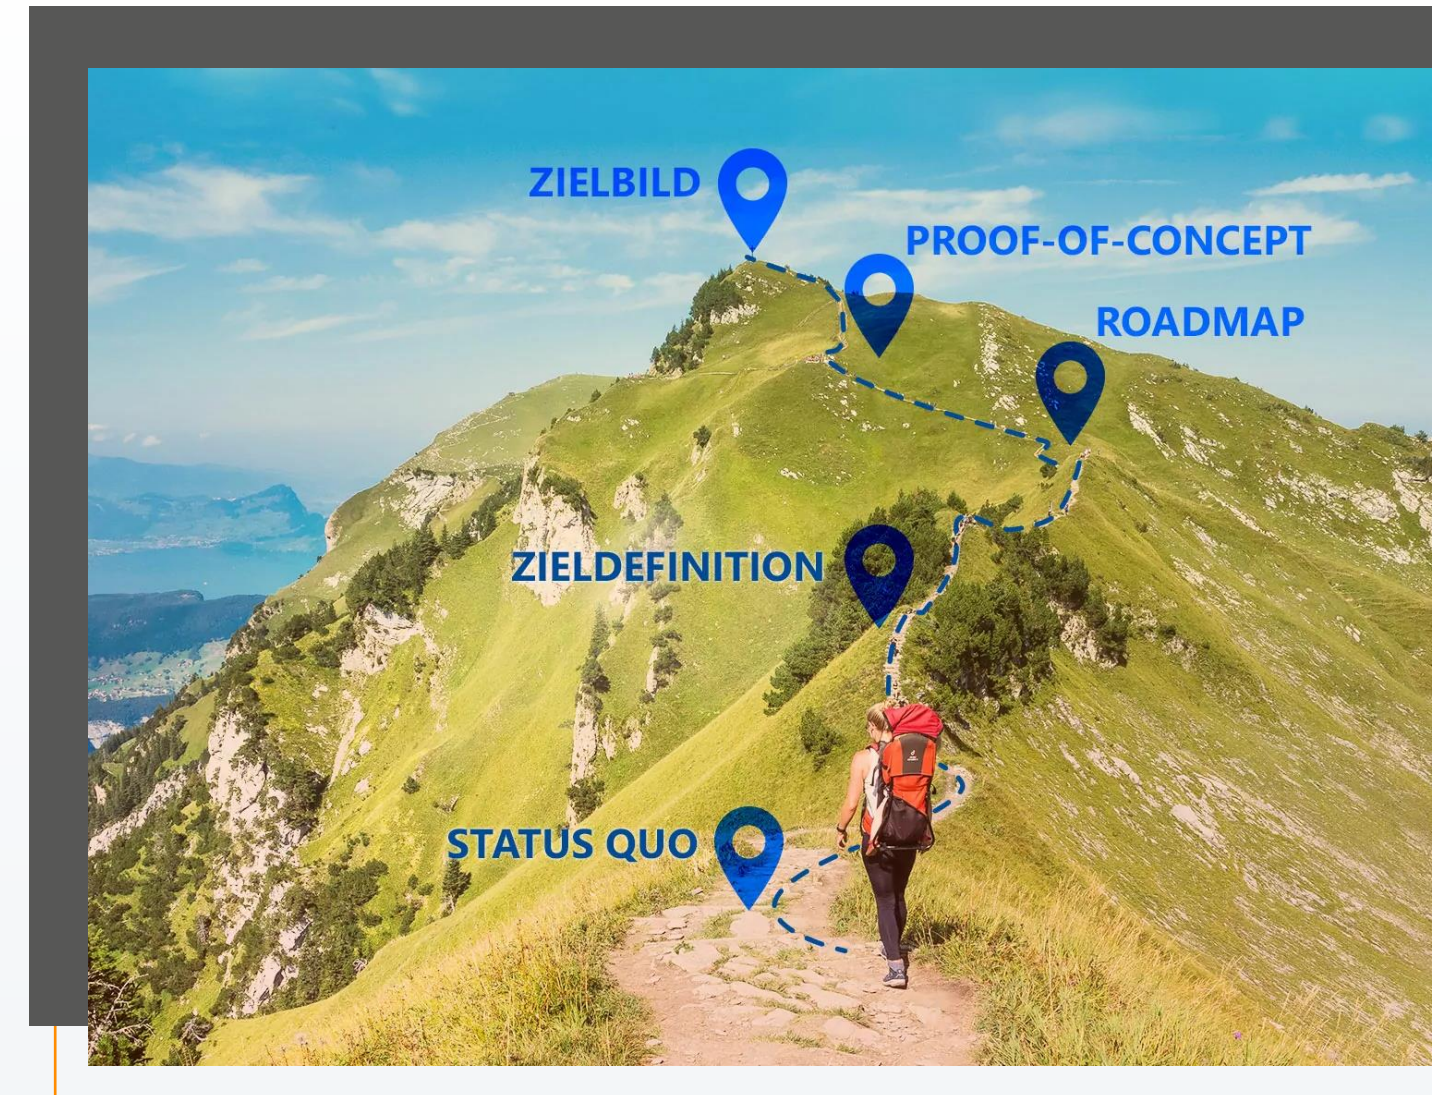

Digital workplaces enable companies to realize new, more effective ways of working, increased employee engagement, higher agility, and consumer-oriented styles and technologies. For companies, the key to growth in today's fast-evolving environment is the ability to increase relevance.

DESIRED OUTCOMES

Digital transformation and the implementation of digital workplaces can be an intimidating challenge. Therefore, AppSphere is offering this workshop to get companies prepared for their transformation process resulting in a clear target IT landscape and actionable plan

Companies realize the importance and need of digital transformation within their organization.

AppSphere implements future-proof IT workplace concepts and solutions with a holistic approach to business requirements and user demands with long-standing expertise and extensive technological knowledge.

CHALLENGES

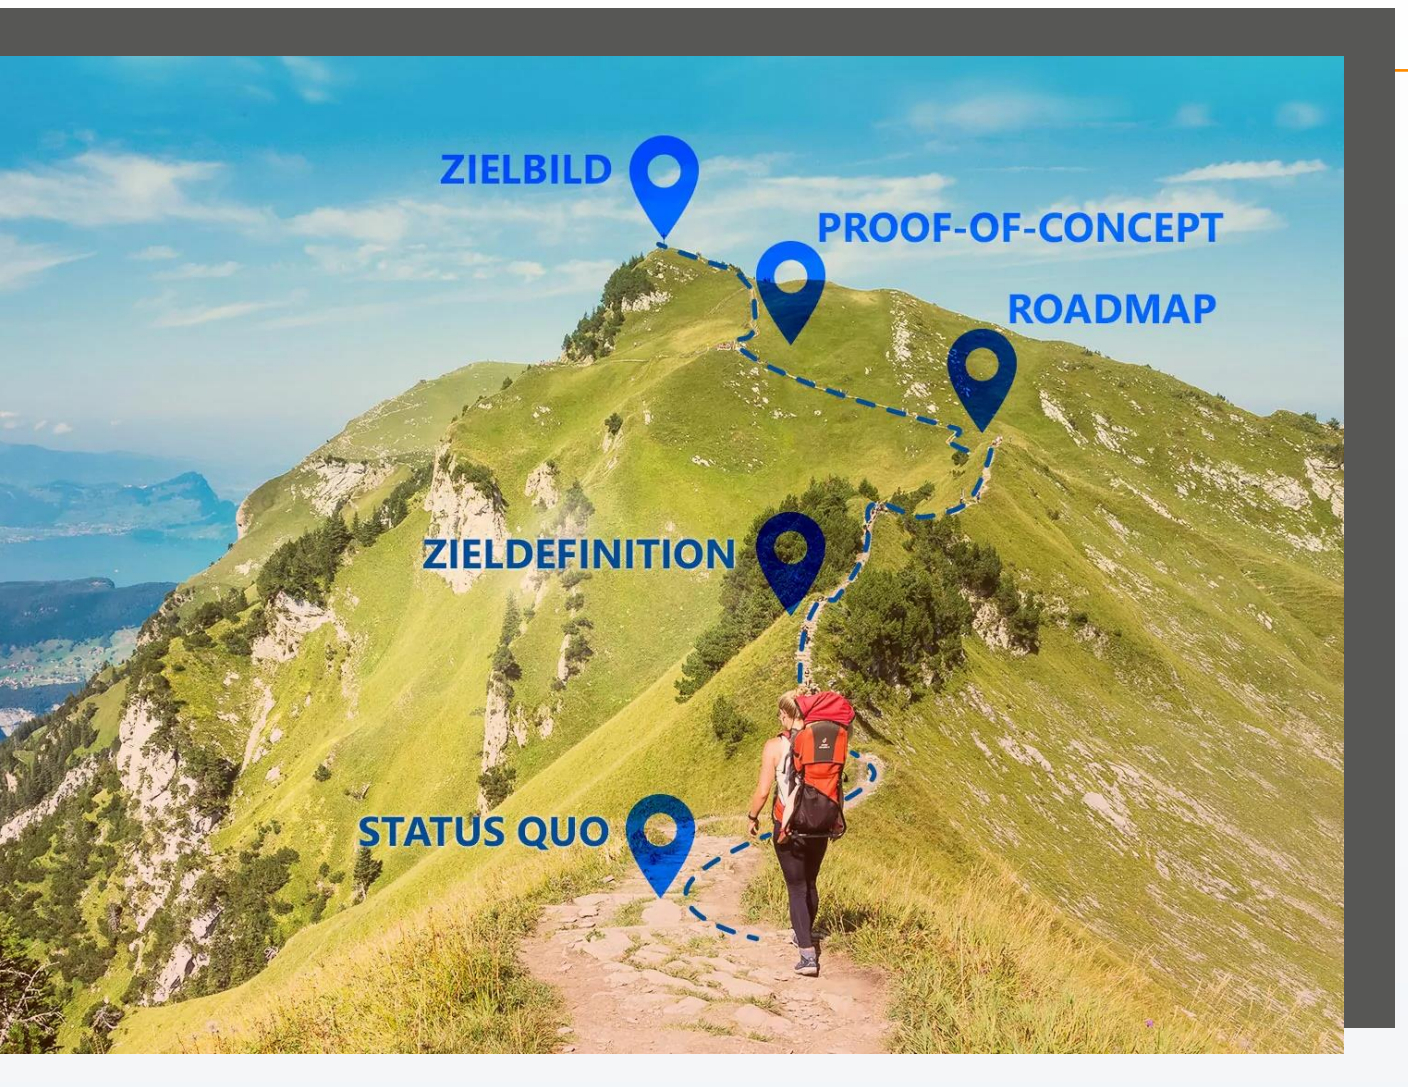

The majority of companies in Germany estimate the impact of digital change on their own business as above-average. At the same time, a digital strategy has only been implemented below average. Only 35 percent of German companies do have a digital strategy so far.

IDEAL SOLUTION

Traditional paradigms no longer work – so how are they able to deliver business value in this new era? The answer is digitalization – especially regarding workplace and business process demands to accommodate .

DESIRED OUTCOMES

Companies that performed this workshop with AppSphere were able to present a clear and actionable plan to launch a Modern Workplace program / projects and to achieve the elaborated target IT landscape and the benefits of it

Customer Success

CML Europe GmbH/CMiT Support Limited

“We were facing a real challenge because we identified that working efficiently cross-companywide together is THE critical competitive factor for the future. With AppSphere’s target image workshop, we had the opportunity to look at our entire IT landscape and to create a comprehensive plan of how the next generation should look like. We also took advantage to introduce agile methods to respond faster to our users’ needs.”, Hauke Otten, General Manager

Joh. Berenberg, Gossler Co. KG

“It was an outstanding workshop and I would like to reinforce the positive feedback regarding the summary presentation.”, Andreas Haritz, IT Department Manager “Infrastructure Services”

NORMA Group Holding GmbH

„The workshop addressed all my questions that has not been answered so far. Within a few hours I gained new perspectives on cloud services – especially in regards to flexibility and the variety of functionalities. They provide added value for the entire company and therefore I am now more than convinced. AppSphere has done really a great job!”, Thomas Reitz, Executive Vice President ICT & CIO Group IT
