

GDPR Assessment & Remediation

A leading home shopping channel and online jewelry retailer in UK

Strategy & Objectives

- Perform detailed gap assessment w.r.t. to GDPR compliance
- Facilitate in design & development of policies & procedures
- Recommend & validate remediation measures
- Impart GDPR Awareness
- DPO Service

Solution

- Detailed assessment with PI Data map formulation and gap assessment against applicable articles of GDPR
- Formulation of GDPR remediation roadmap and manage implementation of remediation plan
- Architecting DSR request management processes
- Draft GDPR-compliant privacy policy, incident & breach management & contract agreements.
- Conducting GDPR Awareness training
- Provide DPO-as-a-Service

Enablers

- Deploying seasoned consultants and accelerators to enable quick assessment & benefit realization
- A comprehensive, detailed & defined methodology to address all the gaps identified

Value Delivered

Effective response to Non-Compliance & Observations

Streamlined and Standardized Process to handle DSRs

360-degree view of PI data flow across its lifecycle

Efficient enforcement of remediation plan

Impart GDPR Awareness

Solution

- Detailed assessment of organizations' applicability to comply with GDPR
- GDPR process gap Identification in all applicable teams & departments
- Formulation of GDPR remediation roadmap and manage implementation of remediation plan & periodic assessments
- Architecting DSR request management processes
- Draft GDPR-compliant privacy policy, incident & breach management & contract agreements.
- Conducting GDPR Awareness training
- Provide DPO guidance

Enablers

Continuous tracking & periodic assessment for remediation measures implementation & compliance

Value Delivered

Effective evaluation against GDPR applicability

Streamlined and Standardized Process to handle DSRs

Closely track technical & process remediations to ensure quick compliance & efficient enforcement

360-degree view of PI Data flow

GDPR & CCPA Gap Assessment

A global B2B and B2C eCommerce platform provider

Strategy & Objectives

- Perform detailed GDPR & CCPA assessment of their customer-facing application against applicable articles
- Compliance Advisory for Data Processing Activities
- Data Subject Request Handling Process Formulation
- Impart GDPR & CCPA Awareness

Solution

- Detailed Gap Assessment against applicable articles of GDPR & CCPA
- Formulation of GDPR & CCPA remediation solutions roadmap and advisory for data processing activities and appropriate data security to comply with the regulations.
- Architecting DSR request management processes
- Draft GDPR-compliant & CCPAcompliant privacy policy, incident & breach management & contract agreements.
- GDPR & CCPA Awareness training

Enablers

- Deploying seasoned consultants and accelerators to enable quick assessment & benefit realization
- A comprehensive, detailed & defined methodology to address all the gaps identified

Value Delivered

Quick Guidance on becoming GDPR & CCPA-compliant

Streamlined and Standardized Process to handle DSRs

Industry best practices in handling & securing PII data

Increased Assurance and confidence to Clients

CASE STUDY

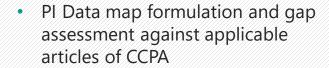

CCPA Assessment & Remediation

One of the largest online jewelry retailer in US

Strategy & Objectives

- Perform detailed gap assessment w.r.t. to CCPA compliance
- Facilitate in design & development of policies & procedures
- Recommend & validate remediation measures
- Impart CCPA Awareness

Solution

- Formulation of CCPA remediation roadmap and manage implementation of remediation plan
- Architecting DSR request management processes
- Draft CCPA-compliant privacy policy & contract agreements.
- Conducting CCPA Privacy training

Enablers

- Deploying seasoned consultants and accelerators to enable quick assessment & benefit realization
- A comprehensive, detailed & defined methodology to address all the gaps identified

Value Delivered

Effective response to Non-Compliance & Observations

Streamlined and Standardized Process to handle DSRs

360 degree view of PI data flow across its lifecycle

Efficient enforcement of remediation plan

More value we delivered to our customers

DFD & Data Inventory

Data Flow Design & Data Inventory

For leading educational services company

Using Trust Hub Solution

GDPR Assess & Remediation

Technical and process remediation

For an online retail channel with global presence and branches across US, UK & India

Data Privacy Assessment

Data Subject Rights Assessment

For a community Bank in UK

Data Masking

Reduce data leakage and theft for cloud based big data platforms

For a retail bank in Europe

Using Dataguise Solution

Data Encryption

PII data store encryption

For a Global HR Consulting Firm in UK

Using Thales eSecurity

CCPA Assess & Remediate

Gap Assessment, PII Data Mapping & remediation

For a leading home shopping channel and online jewelry retailer in US

Data Protection

Sensitive Data protection

For healthcare company in India

Using Symantec DLP, Seclore, McAfee DAM Solutions

Breach Management

Incident Management & Data Access Review

For leading Telco & Oil Refinery Group

Integrating DLP and data protection tools with SIEM

Executing global compliance programs; 40+ certified data privacy professionals; Raising Awareness

IT & Security (incl. GDPR & CCPA) – Data Discovery & Classification, DLP, Data Masking & Encryption, IRM, SIEM, Incident Management & Endpoint protection

Happiest People · Happiest Customers

India | United States | United Kingdom | Canada | Australia | Dubai

```
Empathetic An
                                          'Happiness' theme. environment to live in Consider mindfulness as a way Happiest Minds is the of working that will increase all first global firm to become of our Happiness
                                                                                                                                                      'The Mindful IT
                                                    Quotient. Be the Company' Happiness attention to the moment Evangelists for completely, without any each other, our distractions Aware customers Doing
                                                                                                   Mindful Perceive Immersively Process Non-judgemental Perform Empathetic An environment to live in the moment and perform with purpose A trustworthy partnership, by living our core values Contributions as an empathetic corporate citizen Happiest Minds is the first global firm to become 'The Mindful IT Company' Paying attention to the moment completely, without any distractions Aware Being conscious of the moment and staying focused on the object of attention including self Alive Being alert and cheerful and generating the energy to stay focused inside Calm Staying Happiest composed in all situations; not reacting as a reflex action Happiest Minds is the the first global firm to first global firm to become 'The Mindful IT Company' Mindful approache Mindful IT Company' Mindful reduces individual stress levels and enable a person to be in the moment and joyful levels and enable a person to be in the moment A structured approach to understanding, internalizing and practicing mindfulness understanding, internalizing and practicing techniques will reinforce our journey on the 'Happiness' theme. Consider journey on the 'Happiness' theme. Consider mindfulness as a way of working that will increase all of our Happiness all of our Happiness Quotient. Be the Quotient. Be the Happiness Evangelists for each other, our our customers and society customers and society Observing Being curious about everything like a everything like a child and child and noticing the surroundings Listening Going beyond hearing and Listening Going beyond listening with full attention to what is being said Being Mindful In the attention to what is being said moment Doing Mindful moment Doing Mindful Perceive Immersively Process Non-judgemental Perform Empathetic An Non-judgemental Perform Empathetic An environment to live in the moment and perform with and perform with purpose A purpose A trustworthy partnership, by living trustworthy partnership, by living our core values Contributions our core values Contributions as an Happiest Minds is the first as an empathetic corporate citizen empathetic corporate citizen global firm to become 'The Mindful IT Company' Paying attention to the moment completely, without any distractions Aware staying focused on the object of Being conscious of the moment and attention including self Alive Being alert and cheerful and generating the energy to stay focused inside Calm Staying composed in all situations; not reacting as a global firm to become 'The Mindful IT reflex action Happiest Minds is the first Company Mindful approaches reduces individual stress levels and enable a person to be in the moment internalizing and practicing mindfulness techniques will and joyful. A structured approach to understanding, reinforce our journey on the 'Happiness' theme. Consider mindfulness as a way of working that will increase all of our Happiness Quotient. Be the Happiness Evangelists for each other, our customers and society Observing Being curious about everything like a child and noticing the surroundings Listening Going beyond hearing and listening with full attention to what is being said Being Mindful in the moment Doing Mindful Perceive Immersively Process Non-judgemental Perform Empathetic An environment to live in the moment and perform with purpose A trustworthy partnership, by living our core values Contributions as an empathetic corporate citizen Happiest Minds is the first global firm to become 'The Mindful IT Company' Paying attention to the moment completely, without any distractions Aware Being conscious of the moment and staying focused on the object of attention including self Alive Being alert and cheerful and generating the energy to stay focused inside Calm Staying composed in all situations; not reacting as a reflex action Happiest Minds is the first global firm to become 'The Mindful IT Company' Mindful approaches reduces individual stress levels and enable a person to be in the moment and joyful. A structured approach to understanding, internalizing and practicing mindfulness techniques will reinforce our journey on the 'Happiness' theme. Consider mindfulness as a way of working that will increase all of our Happiness Quotient. Be the Happiness Evangelists for each other, our customers and society Observing Being curious about everything like a child and noticing the surroundings Listening Going beyond hearing and listening with full attention to what is being said Being Mindful in the moment Doing Mindful Perceive Immersively Process Non-judgemental Perform Empathetic An environment to live in the moment and perform with purpose A trustworthy partnership, by living our core values Contributions as an empathetic corporate citizen Happiest Minds is the first global firm to become 'The Mindful IT Company' Paying attention to the moment ely without any distractions AWARP Being conscious of the moment and staying focused on
```

Being Curious about everything like a child and noticing the surroundings Listening Going beyond hearing and listening with full attention to what is

Mindful

Mindful

Non-judgement

Process

structured understanding, internalizing and practicing mindfulness techniques will reinforce our journey on the approach

An env ironment to live in the moment and perform with purpose partnership, by living our core values Contributions as an trustworthy hecome and iovful. A structured approach to mindfulness techniques will reinforce our mindfulness as a way of working that will increase Happiness Evangelists for each other,

Observing Being curious about noticing the surroundings

Being Mindful in the