

TietoEVERY Application Public Cloud Transformation & Azure Public Cloud

Starting is often the hardest part. Let TietoEVERY to deliver a quick Proof of Concept for you with Microsoft. Concentrate on creating something new and useful – Azure provides a great set of platform services for that. Quickly validate your Azure SW development idea with our team. Clearly scoped Proof of Concept can provide for your valuable insight and basis for decision-making about further development.

Many organizations shy away from large and risky public cloud transformation projects for current business critical applications. Public cloud lift & shift migrations are often not providing value as promised. Refactoring & Replatforming legacy applications can be risky and expensive.

One way to go round this is challenge is to continue utilizing old business critical system but add new functionality on top of it to serve your external and internal customers better.

Some areas of quick wins could be:

- Brand new sales or service channel in Azure public cloud which is integrated with legacy system.
- Modern user interface running in Azure public cloud which works in mobile devices etc.

Let's work together to grow and enhance your business with public cloud based new solutions!

How TietoEVERY can help:

- Qualified Microsoft Business Central partner
- Gold Competency in Application Development/Integration/Lifecycle Management
- Gold Competency in Cloud Business Applications and Silver Competency in Data Analytics/Data Platform
- Wide array of services, including cloud native app development and cloud native application management and operations
- Operating across Nordics
- Global delivery capability