The Solution

The Spyglass IQi30 offering provides a ML platform solution that enables businesses to get up and running with machine learning in just 30 days. Our solution approach simplifies the process of developing, deploying, and managing ML models, making it easier for enterprises to take advantage of the benefits of machine learning.

Overall, our ML platform offering provides a solution that is:
- Streamlined
- Comprehensible
- Scalable

We enable businesses to adopt machine learning quickly and easily, unlocking the full potential of these technologies to drive business growth and success.
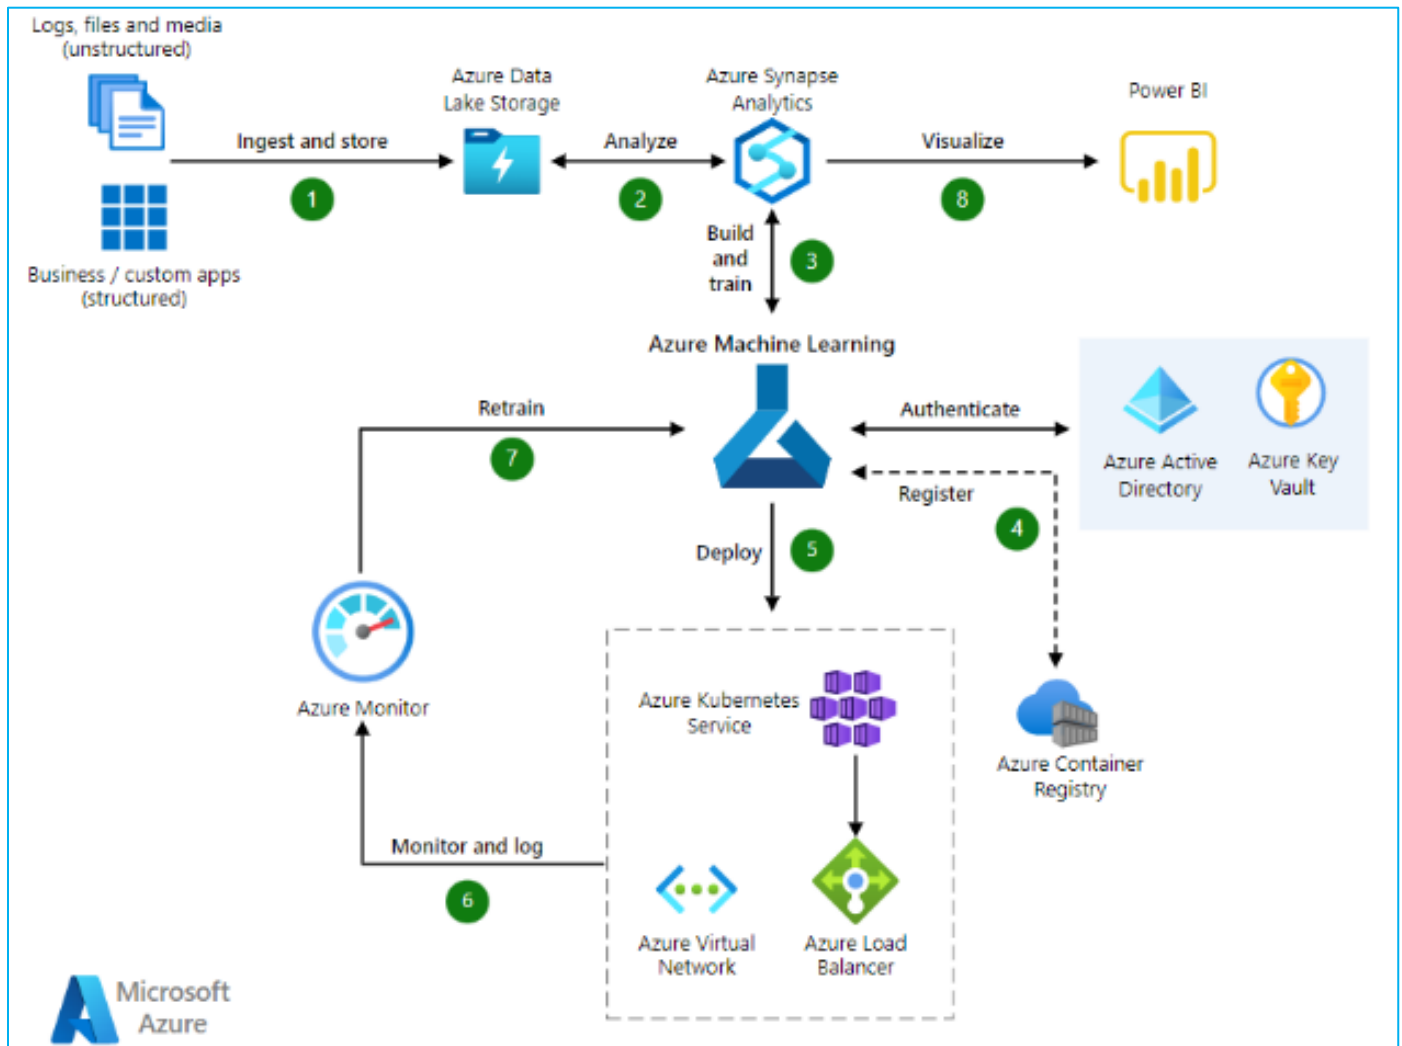

Our Process

Our approach deploys a secure Azure Machine Learning environment, leveraging Azure Well-Architected and the Cloud Adoption Framework. With a Prebuilt Azure Blueprint for secure platform deployment, deploying a ML or AI solution is quick and easy.

We leverage our Azure Blueprint Solution Accelerator for Analytics (IQi30) to implement the analytics workload & integrate with your Azure IT services.

Our complete package includes:

- A toolkit for Azure ML

- Workshops to educate

- Envisioning sessions which place ML within your business world fit to yours and industry use-cases
